of the churches are enjoying the coor share on the hillsides and at the ocean baths, where the shepherds enjoy loitering ease on the days when the thermometer mountstowards a hundred degrees, wickedness in the cities is then no less apparent than in mid-winter.

Still the good pastors should not be criticised for seeking necessary recreation from the tiresome duties and perplexing cares of their households of faith.

They need rest, and no doubt the quiet and peace of a summer's vacation, and strength to mind and body for the work of the coming year when they must needs wrestle not only with principalities and powers and wickedness in high and low places in their eloquent sermons, but also are burdened with visits to the sick, and the pleasanter and yet care-bearing work of taking part in church socials, festivals and entertainments. NOT YET DECIDED.

Many Richmond pastors as yet have not arranged for the spending of their vacations. Many of the poorer ministers will content themselves with a visit to some brother paster in the country and will do good work while enjoying even a short-while mid the luxuries of country life, for they will of course fill the pulpit of the country preacher and the announcement that a city minister is to hold forth at the meeting-house will be sure to attract a large rural congregation. sure to attract a large rural congregation. Dr. T. G. Dashiell, of St. Mark's Episcopal church, has made no definite arrangements as yet, and unless his health fails him entirely he will probably leave the city only for a day or two in the middle of each week during the nonth of August.

DR. JUDKINS.

The Young People's Societies of Christian Endeavor of Richmond have selected as their representative to the International Convention at Minneapolis, Minn., Dr. William E. Judkins, of the Centenary Methodist church. Dr. Judkins will attend the convention, which meets in July.

They are always largely attended, and to accommodate the crowd a mammoth tabernacle is being erected with a seating capacity of 10,000.

Rev. J. B. Hutson, of Pine-street Baptist church, and Rev. J. M. Frost, pastor of Leighstreet Baptist church, have not as yet arranged to leave the city.

Rev. Dr. R. P. Kerr, of the First Presby-terian, needs a vacation and will take a rest of six weeks. He will go to the mountains and lakes of the North seeking absolute quiet. He had an invitation to Mr. Moody's summer school at Northfield, Mass., but had to decline

Dr. Kerr in the future will take a trip to Europe each alternate season.

DR. BURTON.

Rev. Dr. Lewis W. Burton, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, who is a native of Cleveland. Ohio, will visit his old home in July to attend the golden wedding of his parents. His family will accompany him. Dr. Burton will probably be absent from the city a month or six weeks.

Rev. Dr. J. Wiley Bledsoe, who is happy in the possession of a summer home near Gor-donsville, will spend portions of August there

DR. GOODWIN.

Rev. Dr. S. A. Goodwin, paster of Grove-avenue Baptist church, will spend the month of August North. Among other places he will attend a grand Baptist camp-meeting at Martha's Vinyard. He will also preach in Boston and vicinity. DR. PITT AND MR. CLOPTON.

Rev. Dr. R. H. Pitt and Rev. S. C. Clopton have made no plans for a vacation.

DR. FAIR.

Rev. Dr. James Y. Fair, pastor of Grace-street Presbyterian church, has rented a cot-tage at Hampton and will spend July and August there with his family. He will, however, come up to Richmond each Saturday night so as to fill his pulpit on Sunday.

R. Ashby Hopkins, the Cary-street clerk whom the police have been in search of for the past few days, was in Richmond on Thursday. He arrived in Hinton, W. Va., Friday, where he was seen and talked to by a gentleman from this city, but who did not know that he was wanted here for an offense. Its thought that he must have left here Thursday night on the 10-30 trainfor the West.

CHARLES F. FUHRER.

Information Wanted Regarding the Whereabouts of His Descendants.

A gentleman well-known in this city has received the following letter which he requests The Times to publish in hope that the desired information may be obtained: MASSACHUSETTS SOCIETY OF THE CINCINNATI.

Boston, May 22, 1891.

A member of one of our Grand Army posts has applied to me for information respecting the descendants of one Charles F. Fuhrer, who was an original member of the Cincinnati, and whose diploma signed by Washington and also his commission as captain of a troop of horse. Sixth Regiment of Light Dragoons, July 1778, is in the possession af the Post.

The papers were taken during the war at Prince William Courthouse, and therefore I write to you, although Charles F. Fuhrer was described as a member of the Georgia Society. The Grand Army Post would take pleasure in restoring the papers to the proper owner.

If not too much trouble to you, can you make inquiry or let me know to whom I can send? I am, very cordially yours. Boston, May 22, 1891.

Royal Arcanum Presentation.

Smith's Hall last evening was well filled with the members of McCarthy Council, No. 468, Royal Arcanum. The occasion was the presentation of a past regent's jewel to Mr. Charles W. Harwood. At the last session of the Grand Council being desirous of showing their appreciation of the honor conferred had a committee appointed to select a suitable jewel. This jewel was made to order of new design and workmanship and very handsome, the centre of the star being mounted with a diamond. The presentation speech was made diamond. The presentation speech was made by Mr. J. Samuel Parrish and responded to by Mr. Harwood. After the presentation the Council went to Pizzini's for refreshments.

Articles of Value.

Fred. William Heiss, charged with stealing $20 from A, Knoll, and who was committed to jail for that offense yesterday, has three large trunks at the First police-station. Two of them are filled with wearing apparel, toilet and miscellaneous articles: the other contains a complete butcher's outfit. They also contain a lot of letters from various parts of the country, but there is nothing suspicious about country, but there is nothing suspicious about the contents, except that the wearing apparel is of a finer quality than a man of Heiss' ap-pearance would be likely to wear.

Mr. Conway M. Knox of Richmond and Miss Rebecca Doig, his cousin, of New York, were married about four months ago and were living in this city. Yesterday morning at 1 o'clock after a lingering illness of several weeks, Mrs. Knox quietly passed away. Her body was taken to New York at 7 o'clock last evening far burial. She will be buried in her bradal costume.

The Report of the International Committee as to the Physical, Intellectual and Moral Progress.

ERY INTEREST-ING statements have just been made publie in regard to the work done by the numerous Young Men's Christian Associations all over the world. The international committee of these associations have issued their report in regard to what has been done in all countries where what has been done in all countries where Christians can be found during the past year, and this report bears eloquent testimony of the steady growth and constantly-increasing power of the association.

The committee of whom Mr. Cephas Brainerd, of New York, is chairman, consists of thirty-three active members, one-third of whom is elected every two years, making the term of each member six years.

Among the members are some of the most prominent business men in the United States. The committee is further strengthened by a board of trustees and ten advisory members, and these comparatively few persons have, since 1883, in a very effective manner, managed the affairs of the Young Men's Christian Associations in the United States and Canada. The members of the committee individually, from time to time, travel through the several States to give advice and gather information, and they are also aided by a number of corresponding members who have been appoint-and they are also aided by a number of cor-responding members who have been appoint-ed from each State.

NUMBER AND MEMBERSHIP.

From the report of the committee it can be seen that there were in existence during the year 1890 in the United States and Canada 1,385 associations, of which 1,291 sent in reports. Of this number 1,261 reported an aggregate membership of 225,501 and 1,188 of them had an active membership of 112,133. In 1,097 associations 45,756 members were serving on committees. serving on committees.

The financial condition of these associa-The financial condition of these associa-tions is also very satisfactory. Two hundred and thirty-one associations have their own buildings valued at $2,366,085, and own other real estate valued at $2,180,025, making the total value of property in buildings and other real estate $12,126,110. Deducting from this amount the debt of the several associations, which aggregates $2,455,730, the net value in buildings and other real estate appears to be $9,670,330.

Besides there are 128 associations having funds amounting to $355,190; 31 have endowment funds amounting to $310,570; one association has a special fund of $120,765.

LIBRARY PUNDS.

The number of associations owning furni-The number of associations owning furni-ture is 875, representing a value of $900,798, and 523 organizations have their own libraries, worth $428,493. The Niblo library endow-ment fund of New York city amounted to $94,235, and 22 other library funds add to the total $20,960, making the net property of all the associations in America $11,707,381.

Besides these are 143 building funds pledged, amounting to $1,770,400, while 4 pledged library funds represent $26,800, and 3 endowment funds $7,000.

endowment funds $7,000.

For current expenses during the past year the aggregate sum of $1,841,966 has been paid out by the associations. During that period 32 States and provincial conventions have been held, at which expenses for State and provincial work were reported, amounting to $133,089, while the expenses of the international convention, for the year 1890 amounted to $57,072.

During the year 1,082 persons were at work

During the year 1,083 persons were at work as general secretaries and other paid officers of local associations and of State and interna-tional committees, and 103 other such posi-tions were temporarily vacant. By 32 State and provincial committees 66 State and provincial secretaries and assistants were employed for the whole or a part of the year. GENERAL CONDITION.

The report further shows that 466 associations paid attention to physical culture during the past year; 407 through gymnasiums and 266 through other means, including base-ball, 266 through other means, including base-ball, rambling, rowing, and swimming clubs, bowling alleys and classes in calisthenics.

The total average daily attendance in 655 associations was 52,708. Reading-rooms were in existence in 779 associations, and in 649 associations libraries can be found containing in all 437,347 volumes. In 310 associations educational classes were in existence; the branches of study taught in individual associations numbered from one to fifteen.

The reports of 292 associations show that 25,-

The reports of 292 associations show that 25,-755 different students attended these classes during the year. Literary societies were reported in 138 associations, 126 of which showed a total average attendance of 3,018. In 624 associations 4,856 entertainments and lectures were given, and in 198 associations 4,350 sociations 4, sociables have been held.

Daily prayer meetings were reported from 12 associations, with a total average attendance 12 associations, with a total average attendance of 181, and from 5 associations song services were reported with a total average attendance of 232. Evening prayers were reported from 90 associations. In 852 associations the week of prayer for young men was observed in November, 1890, and in 193 college associations in January, 1891.

Employment departments were in existence in 348 associations, and through these agencies 11,276 situations were secured during the year. Women's auxiliaries or committees were in existence in connection with 589 associations and of all associations 427 were incorporated.

ADDITIONAL DEPARTMENTS.

There are in existance 98 railroad branches and associations, and 96 of them sent in their reports. Out of this number 10 employ 113 general secretaries and assistants.

Out of 11 German branches and associations all but one sent in reports, which show that 9 of them employ 12 general secretaries and assistants. Out of 345 college associations 327 sent in their reports, showing that 8 of them
